COMMITTEE Chairman Harry Van Bellehem said, "The Anthony Awards have been established to call attention to those persons, usually taken for granted, who by their personal efforts at the local level make possible our exceptional community opportunities for recreation."

The announcement came at the close of Park and Recreation Month, an annual observance sponsored by the 60 city, county and school recreation departments in Los Angeles County. Van Bellehem termed this year's observance "the most successful in history."

State Bows to None in Variety, Beauty of Vines in Its Gardens

In the number and beauty of vines to be found in its garden, California has no rival among the other states. Evergreen or deciduous, everblooming or seasonal — you could choose them blindfolded and not go wrong.

Let's concern ourselves right now with those vines that give us a summer show. Among others, the California Assn. of Nurserymen lists the following. Most colorful of all just has to be Bougainvillea. A gaudy tradition in California, it has been improved through the years, is now available in shades of pink, copper, red and purple as well as the familiar magenta. Use it at the corner of a wall and watch what you plant beneath it. Such brilliance brooks no competition.

THERE ARE several Trumpet Vines to be found in California, and one of the best for summer is the Scarlet Trumpet Vine. Its rich foliage is liberally sprinkled with red tubular flowers that have contrasting yellow centers. This is a tender vine but worth growing even in the frost belt where a bad winter might do it in.

More hardy to cold than the above is the Layender Trumpet Vine, a vigorous vine with rich green foliage and bell or trumpet-shaped flowers that are not unlike lavender Gloxinias.

IN THE Honeysuckle family we find the Giant Burmese Honeysuckle the most appealing to our eye, though the more common Hall's Japanese Honeysuckle has much to recommend it as a rambler on fences and posts. Giant Burmese Honeysuckle, however, is a striking vine with large, glossy leaves and huge tubular, fragrant blooms up to six and seven inches long. Plant it on a trellis against a sunny wall and let it cover the side of your house.

Be sure to check with your C. A. N. nurseryman before planting, as some of the above varieties may be too tender for your area.

LASTLY, LET'S mention the Cape Plumbago, which can be trained either as a vine or a shrub. When encouraged to ramble, its mass of light blue flowers is one of summer's more pleasant and persistent shows, not spectacular, but impossible to overlook. It blends with any color, too, and that's an asset in any season, anywhere.
